Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) Policy

St. Michael's School is a Voluntary Controlled Church of England Primary School, St. Catherine's, St. Mary's and Marldon are Voluntary Aided Church of England Primary Schools, Ipplepen, Stokeinteignhead and Doddiscombsleigh are Community Primary Schools for both girls and boys. The schools in the USF come from various family backgrounds. In each year there are a few children identified with special educational needs. There is a wide social mix. The schools are in residential areas and also have children who travel in from outlying villages.

RSE will be appropriate to the children's age and experience and will be presented within a moral, family-orientated, Christian framework.

Our schools seek to ensure that the RSE curriculum protects, informs and nurtures all pupils. It clearly differentiates between factual teaching (biology, medicine, the law, marriage, different types of families and the composition of society) and moral teaching about relationships and values, recognising that the distinction can be easily blurred and that there needs to be discernment about the manner in which this is taught. We teach RSE within a moral (but not moralistic) framework. (RHSE policy exemplar for Church schools April 2020 Bristol)

Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information and exploring issues and values.

Statutory requirements

As maintained primary schools we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

We are not required to provide sex education but we do need to teach the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum. In teaching RSE, we must have regard to guidance issued by the Secretary of State as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

As schools of the United Schools Federation, we teach RSE as set out in this policy, including some non-statutory elements of sex education.

Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review - a member of staff pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation - school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation - parents were invited to comment on the policy
4. Pupil consultation - we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE
5. Ratification - once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified

Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) in our schools:

- Is a partnership between home and school
- To prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- To create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- To teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies
- Starts early and is relevant to pupils at each stage in their development and maturity.
- Includes the acquisition of knowledge, development of life skills and respectful attitudes and values.
- Has sufficient time to cover a wide range of topics with a strong emphasis on relationships, consent, rights, responsibilities to others, negotiation and communication skills, and accessing services.
- Helps pupils understand on and off-line safety, consent, violence and exploitation and how to keep themselves safe.
- Is both medically and factually correct and treats sex as a normal fact of life.
- Is inclusive of difference, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, ethnicity, culture, age, faith or belief, or other life experiences.
- Promotes equality in relationships, recognises the challenges, gender inequality and reflects girls' and boys' different experiences and needs.

Moral and values framework

The RSE programme will reflect the schools' over-arching aims and demonstrate and encourage the following values:

- respect for self
- respect for others

- responsibility for our own actions
- responsibility for our family, friends, school and wider community

Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner, so pupils are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum (see PSHE policy). Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum.

RSE will be overseen by the Head of School in close co-operation with the Personal, Social, Health and Economic (PSHE) Co-ordinator.

Members of teaching staff will deliver the programme.

Single sex groups will be used as appropriate.

Delivery may be through:

- topics
- aspects of science
- planned visits from parents e.g. where there is a new baby
- pastoral time
- small group work
- SEAL (Social and Emotional Aspects of Learning) activities
- PSHE lessons

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships

- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

The curriculum overview used will be made available for parents annually. Individual parents can also view resources by contacting the school direct.

Equal Opportunities

The United Schools Federation is committed to working towards equal opportunities in all aspects of school life. All resources used will support this commitment.

The needs of boys and girls

The needs of boys and girls are equally met and we will use approaches to actively engage them. We shall also be proactive in combating sexism and sexist bullying.

Ethnic, cultural and religious diversity

Different ethnic, cultural and religious groups may have different attitudes to RSE. The school will consult children and parents/carers about their needs, take account of their views and promote respect for, and understanding of, the views of different ethnic and cultural and religious groups.

Varying home backgrounds

We recognise that our children may come from a variety of family situations and home backgrounds. We shall take care that all children are treated equally regardless of their home circumstances.

Sexuality

Our approach to RSE will have a sensitive, honest and balanced consideration towards sexuality. We shall actively tackle intolerant language and behaviour.

Special Educational Needs

We will ensure that all young people receive relationship and sex education, and we will offer provision appropriate to the particular needs of all our pupils taking specialist advice where necessary.

Roles and responsibilities

The governing body

Policy date: Oct 2023

Review: Oct 2024

The governing body will approve the RSE policy and hold the Executive Head to account for its implementation.

The Executive Head

The Executive Head is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the USF, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory components of RSE (see section 'Parents right to withdraw').

Staff

Teaching staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory components of RSE

Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

Parents' right to withdraw

The United Schools Federation is committed to working with parents. Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships and health education, but parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSE, those that fall outside of compulsory elements of RSE in the National Science Curriculum.

Parents wishing to exercise this right are invited to contact the Heads of School who will explore the concerns and the possibilities of adjusting the programme or approach. They will discuss the possible impact that withdrawal may have on the pupil and talk with the parents about the pupil's possible negative experiences or feelings that may result from exclusions and ways which these can be minimised. Once a pupil has been withdrawn, they cannot participate in RSE until the request of withdrawal has been removed.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

The United Schools Federation uses Jigsaw to teach PSHE across the school, including all the elements of the RSE curriculum. The lessons which include subject matter that falls outside of the compulsory elements are

Autumn 2: Changing Me Year 4, Lesson 2 (Having a baby)

Autumn 2: Changing Me Year 5, Lesson 4 (Conception)

Autumn 2: Changing Me Year 6, Lesson 3 (Conception, birth)

Parents and carers may, therefore, request that their child be withdrawn from these lessons only.

Monitoring arrangements

Each school has a link Governor.

The PSHE Coordinator is responsible for:

- monitoring the standards of children's work and the quality of teaching
- supporting colleagues in the teaching of RSE
- providing information about current developments in the subject
- providing a strategic lead and direction for the subject in the school
- giving the Heads of School an annual summary report, evaluating strengths and areas for development in the subject
- arranging visits from any relevant representative involved in supporting PSHE provision.

This policy will be reviewed by the Governing Body annually. At every review, the policy will be approved by the Governing Body

Relationships and sex education curriculum map

The United Schools Federation uses Jigsaw to teach PSHE. Jigsaw covers all areas of PSHE for the primary phase including statutory Relationships and Health Education and is taught across the school from Reception to Year 6. The table below gives the learning theme of each of the six units and these are taught across the school; the learning deepens and broadens every year.

The main focus for RSE is in the 'Changing me' unit taught in the second half of the Autumn term.

Term	Unit	Content
Autumn 1	Being Me in My World	This unit includes understanding my own identity and how I fit well in the class, school and global community. Jigsaw Charter established.
Autumn 2	Changing Me	This unit includes Relationships and Sex Education in the context of coping positively with change
Spring 1	Celebrating Difference	This unit includes anti-bullying (cyber and homophobic bullying included) and understanding.
Spring 2	Dreams and Goals	This unit includes goal-setting, aspirations, who do I want to become and what would I like to do for work and to contribute to society Recap on the 'Changing Me' unit from the Autumn term.
Summer 1	Healthy Me	This unit includes drugs and alcohol education, self-esteem and confidence as well as healthy lifestyle choices, sleep, nutrition, rest and exercise
Summer 2	Relationships	This unit includes understanding friendship, family and other relationships, conflict resolution and communication skills, bereavement and loss Recap on the 'Changing Me' unit from the Autumn term.
